

--- In Transit-Vancouver@yahoogroups.com, Ba See Lo <decheung@c...> wrote:

My source tells me:

Hiya,

The 14 APC's we have installed right now are from UTA. Urban Transportation Associates from Cincinnati, Ohio.

At 23:42 -0400 4/15/04, Pat Scrimgeour so eloquently expressed:

> > -----Original Message-----

>> From: Ba See Lo [mailto:decheung@c...]

>

>> As it was explained to me from the head of OTC maintenance, the data >> is indeed being sent from the coach via satellite to the company >> headquarters in Dayton, Ohio (not sure if it's Infodev though, >> there's gotta be more than one company providing such equipment, >> right?).

>

>Interesting. I've never heard of such a thing. And, I thought just about

>everyone was buying from Infodev these days (certainly Toronto, Winnipeg, >RTC-Quebec, RTL-Longueuil, and we in Ottawa are). I'll ask around.

>

>Pat